LONDON, Sept. 27.—A German Zeppelin made a bomb-dropping tour last night, visiting several Belgian cities, according to a dispatch to the Reuter Telegram Company, from Ostend. The airship passed over Alost, Ghent, Dynze, Minelbek and Rollegem, dropping five bombs.

At Dynze a man 82 years old was mortally injured. At Thielt, the Zeppelin dropped two bombs upon the gas works.

PARIS, Sept. 27.—Four bombs were dropped on the city from a German aeroplane today. One missile, exploding in Avenue du Trocadero, at the corner of Rue Freycinet, blew the head from the shoulders of a man who was standing on the corner with his daughter and crippled child. The other bombs did little damage. Crowds, taking advantage of a beautiful autumn day, were prome-

MARRIAGE IS MADE EASY FOR FIGHTERS OF ENGLAND.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]
LONDON, Sept. 27.—The Archbishop of Canterbury has sent a letter to all the bishops urging them to reduce the marriage license fees so that the soldiers and sailors summoned to active service may marry before leaving home. The marriage fees aggregate $10, which includes $2.50 in stamp duty to the government. The archbishop has requested the government to waive the payment of this duty in the case of recruits and expects that his request will be granted. Many dioceses already have lowered the license fee to $2.50 and the clergymen are waiving their right to personal fees. The wholesale encouragement of marriages on the part of the soldiers and sailors of Germany and Austria and France has attracted much attention in England and probably inspired the archbishop's action.

VILLA TELLS CARRANZA HE MUST STEP DOWN.

The Fighting Head of the Mexican Revolution Makes No Bones in His Statement, but Declares He Will Never Accept the Present First Chief as the Man Who Can Shoulder Responsibilities of the Republic.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]
CHIHUAHUA CITY, Sept. 27.—Immediate resignation of Gen. Venustiano Carranza as first chief of the Constitutionalist army is the only basis on which Gen. Francisco Villa will agree to settlement of differences between himself and Carranza. This was his reply today to messages of officials in Mexico City, who protested against his attitude towards Carranza.

Villa declared he never would accept Carranza as head of the republic. Gen. Villa's reply, as given out here today, follows: "I lament the circumstances that have brought about grave danger, but sincerely protest that my sole ambition will be to arrange existing difficulties without shedding blood if possible."

"I emphatically state, however, that the only move that can bring about cessation of hostilities on my part is that Venustiano Carranza deliver supreme command of the Constitutionalist army to me. Carranza is a man of the south of Chihuahua City, would be turned over to Villa's men without a fight. It was learned that a Villa brigade was on the march into Sonora, the western border State, to assist Gov. Maytorena in his attacks on the Carranza forces in that State. Another strong group of Villa men is moving into Coahuila, to the east.

GERMANY'S DEFENSE MADE BY HER CHURCHMEN.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]
NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—The Federal Council of Churches made public tonight a communication received from twenty-nine leading Protestant churchmen of Germany repudiating in behalf of German Christianity and the German government responsibility for the European war and fixing upon "those who have long secretly and cunningly been spinning a web of conspiracy against Germany, which now they have flung over us in order to strangle us by force."

The communication is addressed to the "Evangelical Churches Abroad."

"The warlike tone," says a statement issued by the Federal council, "and vigorous denunciation of Germany's opponents is a matter of considerable surprise to members of the council."

"A systematic network of lies," the communication reads, "controlling the international telegraph service, is endeavoring in other lands to cast upon our people and its government the guilt for the outbreak of this war and has dared to dispute the inner right of us and our empire to invoke the assistance of God."

The communication proceeds to point to Germany's forty-three years of peace and to her material development "in friendly competition with other people" and declares that "under compulsion to repel a wanton attack she has now drawn the sword."

Her frontiers threatened, Germany was compelled to defend herself. "From being ravaged by Asiatic barbarism," it is declared.

"Over the world in arms," the communication continues, "we recognize clearly that we have to defend our existence, our individuality, our culture and our honor. No scruple holds back our enemies, where in their opinion there is a prospect through our destruction of seizing for themselves an economic advantage, or an increase in power, a fragment of our motherhood, our colonial possessions or our trade. We stand thrust upon us by the raging of the people, fearless because of our trust in the holy and righteous God. Precisely because this has been thrust upon us, we have had the raising of a single people, in which distinctions of race and rank, of parties and confessions have vanished. In a holy enthusiasm, not shrinking from battle and from death, and looking to God, we are all of one mind

Kaiser said to be Suffering from Inflammation of the Lungs—Russians Declare They have Defeated Enemy in Eastern Galicia—Austrian Troops Declared to be Afflicted with Cholera.

LONDON, Sept. 27.—A dispatch to the Times from Geneva says that the Suisse states that Emperor William is ill with inflammation of the lungs as a result of having fallen into a trench filled with water.

According to a Petrograd dispatch to the Times, "it has been ascertained beyond doubt that the German Emperor has come to East Prussia."

LONDON, Sept. 27.—A dispatch to the Reuter Telegram Company from Antwerp says that the Germans re-commenced today the bombardment of Malines. The people were obliged to quit their reconstructed habitations. Heavy gun-firing was also heard in the direction of Hofstade.

LONDON, Sept. 27.—The British official statement given out tonight on the battle in the north of France says: "The situation is satisfactory and the counter-attacks on the British front have been beaten back with heavy losses to the enemy."

LONDON, Sept. 27.—Almost all most two-thirds of the great battle line across Northeastern France the armies of the allies and Germany fought fiercely today, at some points with the bayonet, and tonight's statements from both sides are worded with the optimism which characterizes all these official pronouncements. It was agreed that the allies had continued their advance. The French claimed "marked progress," the German announcement from Berlin, though insisting that the advance had been repulsed, nevertheless referred to it as an advance. Elsewhere along the battle front neither side seems to have achieved any notable success.

BOTH SIDES ARE FIGHTING WITH UNDIMINISHED SPIRIT.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]
The French claim appreciable progress on the left wing and a victory over the famous Prussian guard in the center. Of the Woerw district, where the Germans have made gains in the last two or three days, little is said. One of the remarkable things in this great battle which has now entered upon its sixteenth day is the spirit maintained by the troops. British, French and Germans have withstood the most terrific shelling the world has ever known, an almost constant rain of bullets from the rifles, and hand to hand encounters with gun and bayonet, but all reports agree that they are fighting with the same determination and tenacity as in the beginning, and that even the commanders in some cases are having difficulty in holding their men back. The German General Staff, by way of Berlin, reports that the allies are using their railroads in a general attack on the extreme end of the right flank of the German army. The General Staff also reports slight gains on the center of the battle front, and an engagement with artillery south of Verdun. The German casualties are officially reported from Berlin number 194,609 up to date, of whom 15,674 are dead, 65,993 wounded and 23,927 missing.

DISEASE A NEW CONTESTANT IN EUROPE'S GENERAL WAR.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]
NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Sept. 27.—A new element has appeared in Northern France that is attacking with impartiality both the Germans and the allies. Disease is now making inroads upon the armed forces that will increase in severity as the hardships of the campaign continue. History shows that epidemics begin to appear about the third week of war and gradually increase in severity for several months. By the end of six months, disease has carried off or incapacitated all those whose resistance is insufficient to give them immunity. After six months of campaigning, the soldier is sufficiently toughened to survive almost anything except starvation or bullets. Where armies fight for days over the same ground as is now the case in the great battle of the Aisne, the spread of epidemics is especially facilitated. So strenuous is the fighting that no time can be spared to bury the dead. Corpses of men and carcasses of animals lie where they fall and spread infection through the district. The two great scourges of modern armies have been typhoid fever and dysentery. Vaccination has overcome smallpox and the simple typhoid treatment has secured immunity from this disease, but dysentery is left and also measles, especially fatal under field conditions. The unsanitary conditions will be further aggravated by the approach of cold weather. There is no question but that this war is going to last well into winter. It may last even beyond next summer. The Germans and Austrians especially cannot afford to rest idle in cantonments during cold weather. The cold weather makes especially

AUSTRIANS IN RETREAT, IS RUSSIAN REPORT.

Borders of Hungary Have Been Entered, Says Petrograd Dispatch.

According to the Report from the Russian Capital Their Artillery is Doing Good Work in Shelling a Big Column Along the Road from Sanok—The Enemy is Reported Defeated at Ushen in the Carpathians.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, Sept. 27.—A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company from Petrograd says:

"A big column is retreating along the road towards Sanok from Przemysl, Galicia, after being shelled from the heights by Russian artillery. In their hurried retreat the enemy left parts of their train of motor cars."

"The Russians defeated the enemy at Ushen, in the Carpathians, capturing artillery and many prisoners. Continuing their pursuit, the Russians have entered the borders of Hungary."

PRZEMYSL TAKEN BY RUSSIANS.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, Sept. 27.—The Russians on Saturday occupied the greater part of the city of Przemysl (Galicia) according to a message from Vienna, says the Rome correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph Company. His dispatch continues:

"The Russians approached the city from the southwest, forcing the Austrians to take shelter in the eastern fortifications where the entire garrison is now concentrated and is preparing to make a final resistance. The situation of the garrison is critical and it is entirely surrounded."

"Russian troops are advancing from Godek on the Austrian positions while the right wing continues to attack from the north. Troops are being poured into the city of Przemysl to press the attack from the southwest."

"The Petrograd correspondent of the Daily Telegraph has forwarded the following semi-official statement regarding the operations in Russian Poland:

"The movement of German troops from East Prussia in the direction of Warsaw has come to nothing. In the government of Suwalki, Russian Poland, the Germans have suffered a serious repulse. The left flank of the Russian army has defeated the troops under the command of Gen. Von Hindenburg near Suwalki. At the same time our troops won a complete victory at Marianopol and the attacking Germans were thrown back ten miles across the River Scheschna with a loss of many guns and prisoners."

SERVIANS LOSE HEAVILY IN LATEST BATTLE.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PARIS, Sept. 27.—A dispatch to the Havas Agency from Nish, Serbia, dated September 24, and delayed in transmission, says:

"The Servians have lost heavily during the battle with the Austrians which has been progressing for a fortnight. The Austrians have brought five army corps into action. With several brigades of fresh troops they crossed the River Drina and attacked the Servians, whose numbers were inferior."

CHOLERA APPEARS AROUND VIENNA.

LONDON, Sept. 27.—A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company from Rome says that a message received there from Vienna states that government bacteriologists have definitely established the presence of Asiatic cholera among the 70,000 wounded in the hospitals of Vienna.

It has been stated officially that an isolated case of cholera was discovered among Austrian soldiers who had returned wounded from Galicia and unofficial advice received earlier from Vienna by way of Venice said that a total of nine cases of the disease had been discovered among the wounded soldiers. These cases, however, were reported from widely separated points.

RUSSIA WORKS HER PRISONERS.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, Sept. 27.—A Petrograd dispatch to Reuters' Telegram Company said:

"As disclosed by the official announcements the fighting line on the East Prussian frontier does not exceed thirty versts (twenty miles). Both Sopotnik and Drusienki, where the Russians accepted battle, are on the left bank of the River Niemen. Sopotnik is thirty versts west of Grodno."

"On the German right, in the vicinity of the River Bober, are vast marshes, rendering operations difficult. The Germans at one point are only thirty versts from the Warsaw-Petrograd Railway, but the Russian troops and the River Niemen intervene."

"From all quarters high praise is bestowed on the Russian military motorcyclists, especially for their services in blowing up bridges when necessary."

"The Reich says that the Governor-General of Irkutsk, who is now in Petrograd, proposes to employ many of the prisoners in the construction of the Amur Railway."

of the German success. The rush of reserves to the threatened point has sufficed the French resistance and has checked the German advance. The tightening of the censorship indicates that most important moves are now taking place. Nothing is allowed to come out about them. They can only be conjectured. France now has almost every man on the firing line. She cannot greatly change her dispositions. The west flanks of both armies are in the open. It is here that a change in the situation is most likely to occur. Great Britain is especially enforcing its sudden change in censorship requirements. What new move is she in a position to make?

Every report of the developments of the Russian campaign further establishes the consummate strategy with which it has been directed. By their campaign in East Prussia they led the Germans on to deliver a "blow in the air" which had no result except to weaken their resistance in the south. Having driven back the Austrian invasion, the Russians have now cleared the way for an advance that will force the withdrawal of the German army in the north. The Russians will require every man that Germany can put in the field to hold back the invasion from her capital.

SERIOUS LOSS FOR GERMANS.

FRENCH REPORT INVADERS ARE FORCED TO ABANDON POINT NEAR NOXON.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—Official dispatches received at the French Embassy today from Bordeaux included the official communication issued at the War Office last night and contained the following supplementary details:

"At the end of the day our troops occupied a front at Dompreux (south-west of Peronne). Ribecourt and Noxon were put on the defensive by the Germans. We occupy Berry-au-Bac. The enemy has retired on Blamont with serious losses and has evacuated Badonvillers. He was forced from Lesseux and the woods between Lesseux and Ribecourt. The Russians have taken Recouvry, on the railroad leading to Cracow, and two fortified positions north and south of Przemysl. The Germans appear to be fortifying themselves north of Kalisz."

"Violent fighting was under way in Serbia in the neighborhood of Krupanj and as far as the River Drina, the dispatch added."

RUIN AT RHEIMS AGAIN SCORED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—The French Embassy made public the following communication:

"The French government has been informed that the German government alleges that the bombardment of the Rheims cathedral (first denied and now openly acknowledged by its authors) had been caused by a French post of observation having been established on the cathedral."

"A telegram of Gen. Joffre to the Minister of War shows that the destruction was as stated before without the shadow of an excuse. The telegram is as follows:

"The fifth (5th) army had occupied Rheims until the 18th of September and then was relieved by the ninth. Both bodies of troops established a post of observation on the cathedral, the systematic bombardment of which began on the 19th at 3 p.m."

Chinese Demand Explanation of Recent Activities.

[BY PACIFIC CABLE.]

TOKIO, Sept. 27.—It is officially announced that the Japanese have defeated the Germans in a stubborn battle lasting fourteen hours on the outskirts of Tsing-tao, seat of the government German leased possession of Kiaochow, China.

The Japanese casualties, so far as ascertained, are given as three killed and twelve wounded.

According to the statement the fight began on September 26. German gunboats bombarded the posts of the Japanese troops. Japanese aeroplanes proved effective in reconnoitering expeditions and are reported to have escaped unhurt.

PEI-HO OCCUPIED.

LONDON, Sept. 27.—A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company from Peking says it is officially announced that Pei-Ho was occupied September 27 by a small Japanese detachment, which repulsed 200 Germans.

JAP TROOPS IN SHANTUNG.

PEKING, Sept. 28.—It is learned from Wei Hsien in Shantung, that a second detachment of Japanese troops arrived there at sundown on Saturday with fifteen cartloads of ammunition and supplies. Other troops have advanced west along the railway and hold Fangtze, where the subject of a London paper. In Germany a similar movement was inaugurated some time ago.

The American mission is crowded with women of all classes from the city and country districts. They are said by the correspondent at Wei Hsien to fear the Japanese and the Chinese soldiers. The Chinese Foreign Office has asked the Japanese Legation for an explanation of the occupation of the railway station at Wei Hsien by Japanese.

JAP EMBASSY DENIES REPORT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—The Japanese Embassy tonight issued this statement:

"The Japanese Embassy is authorized from Tokyo to categorically deny the reports given circulation a few days ago to the effect that the government intends to build a narrow-gauge railway from the seaport of Lung-Kow to Kiaochow."

AUSTRIA REWARDS ITS RESERVISTS.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

ROME (Via Paris), Sept. 27.—Dispatches from Austria report that a decree has been issued which says:

"In view of the heroic dash of the Austrian army, the Emperor has granted the reservists the honor to go and fight for the defense of the fatherland."

The Austrian reservists are men of mature age, with families; they are not legally required to leave their homes, but they will be sent to the fortifications.

On the Offensive.

In a summary of the events in both theaters of war.

Of the German bombs thrown none seems to have done extensive damage. One man is reported to have been killed in Belgium and one in Paris. The explosives in Paris, however, fell near the quarter occupied by many Americans. There is an unconfirmed report that an attack on Antwerp is impending.

The French official communication says that at some points the trenches are only 100 meters apart; thus a small portion of the millions engaged have known the stimulation and thrill of hand-to-hand fighting.

Dispatches from Petrograd report that fierce fighting still goes on in Galicia though Cracow, towards which the Russian hosts have been marching ever since Przemyel was invested and the communications cut, has not yet been attacked.

To the north the German invasion is assuming vast proportions, notwithstanding the Russian War Office reports that the Germans are being repulsed at the frontier. It is estimated here that the German front extends from the Baltic coast to the southern boundary of Silesia, a distance of about 400 miles.

What opposition the Germans have met is believed to have been little more than a cavalry screen. The fighting centered again today along the River Niemen, from Suwalki, Russian Poland, to Sopotnik. The official statement issued tonight at Petrograd said that the German aeroplanes had been unable to assume the offensive at Sopotnik and that their retreat was more or less general.

There has been a dearth of naval news. The German fleet has been in the Baltic for several days, and although the fall of the Austrian port, Cattaro, has been reported imminent for several days, that event has not yet occurred.

The German Emperor's illness, variously described last week as a severe nervous fever, which is said to be inflammation of the lungs, due to the Emperor falling into a water-filled trench.

To the cholera, heretofore reported among the Austrian troops, has been added, according to an Antwerp dispatch, a high birth rate to the British troops held in the German camps around Brussels and near Termonde. It is reported that several hundred Germans have already succumbed to the disease.

Quick to realize, as did Germany, the necessity of a high birth rate to offset the deaths due to the war, a movement has been started in England to reduce the marriage fees and to encourage soldiers and sailors to take wives before leaving for the front. The Archbishop of Canterbury has issued an open letter on the subject to a London paper. In Germany a similar movement was inaugurated some time ago.

STILL IN SWITZERLAND.

A Scant Thousand of Americans Is Reported to Be Left, According to the Latest Estimates.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PARIS, Sept. 27.—There are still between 800 and 900 Americans in Switzerland, according to the latest estimate. Most of those remaining belong to the wealthy class and are in no hurry to go home. At Basel yesterday, German and French Red Cross officers were exchanged and will return to their respective countries. The interchange was supervised by Swiss officers. The French and German held a friendly meeting, exchanging cards, drinking the health of one another and discussing their war experiences.

German Attack Aimed at the Flowing of French and English.

The Fighting is Incessant During the Day, With Hand-to-hand Combats Occurring at Many Points, and the Result Seems to be that the Kaiser's Forces Are Thrown Back by the Defenders of France.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

ON THE BATTLE FRONT, Sept. 27 (via Paris, Sept. 28).—Desperate attempts made by the Germans on the western end of the long line of battle to break through the allies' forces, which are engaged in a turning movement, have resulted in the most furious fighting which has taken place since the beginning of the campaign.

After fighting without respite night and day, corps after corps of Germans were hurled against the flower of the French and English armies today, only to be thrown back. The infantry bore the brunt of the incessant fighting, but the artillery of both armies continued throughout twenty-four hours to bombard each other's positions. Hand to hand combats occurred at many points and bayonets were used freely.

The French colonial infantry, most of whom men wear many medals for bravery displayed in colonial campaigns, was to the fore and beside these men fought the black Senegalese, whose further along the line the British troops held the German point with the greatest determination. The French troops showed more than their accustomed dash in attacks and everywhere acts of wonderful courage were performed. The cavalry also participated in the engagements, many of the allied horsemen having enjoyed a long rest, which enabled this arm of the service to distinguish itself. The famous Scots Greys, finding that the color of their horses offered a prominent mark for the German riflemen, had dyed their mounts brown.

At Nubecourt, home of the parents of President Poincare, the Germans broke open the Poincare family vault, it is reported, and buried a number of their dead there. The Germans placarded the town of Valenciennes, demanding from the Mayor lists of the supplies of clothing and food.

REPULSE GERMANS WITH BAYONETS.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PARIS, Sept. 27.—The following official war bulletin was issued this afternoon:

"First: On our left wing fighting has been continued with perceptible progress on our part. On the front between the rivers Oise and Somme and on the north of the Somme from the Aisne to Rheims, the German attacks by the Germans have been made at several points, some of them being with the bayonet, but they were repulsed. In many places the French and German trenches were not more than 100 meters apart."

"Second: In the center, from Rheims to Soissons the Prussian guard has undertaken unsuccessfully a vigorous offensive, being hurled back by the French troops."

WEEK DUE FOR CONGRESS.

Tax Measure Comes up Before the Senate.

Anti-trust Bill to Cause Lengthy Debate.

Shipping Independence Also to be an Issue.

And in the Region of Berry-as-Ban

(eleven miles northeast of Rialto)

and about twenty-five miles east of the city of Los Angeles.

From Southerly the enemy yesterday morning made a successful attack on the highway leading from

Southern to Chalon-sur-Marne and line of the railway from St. Menes to Voussiers. At the end of the day

our troops regained the ground that they had lost.

"Between the region of the Argonne

and the Meuse the enemy has not manifested any activity. On the developed. In the southern part of the Woivre district the Germans

occupy a front which passes by (St.)

Mihle) and to the northwest of F.

a-Mousson.

"On our right wing, in Lorraine,

the Vosges and Alsace, there has been no important change."

The official communication issued tonight says that the Germans continued night and day attacks of unprecedented violence, but have been unsuccessful.

The text follows:

"It is confirmed that since the night of the 25th to the 27th, and up to far into the day of the 27th, the Germans have not ceased, night or day,

to renew on the entire front the unprecedented violence, with the determined purpose of trying to break through our lines.

"These attacks were made with a uniformity, which denotes instructions from the highest command to seek the solution of the battle.

"Not only have they not been able to accomplish it, but during the action we have captured one hundred and many prisoners, the fact that was taken from the enemy by the Twenty-fourth Regiment of Colonial

Infantry.

"Our army commanders make special mention of the fact that the morale of our troops, notwithstanding

this uninterrupted struggle, continues

excellent and that they themselves

even have trouble to hold back the troops in their desire to rush on the enemy who is sheltered in defensive positions."

FRANCE EXTENDS

ITS MORATORIUM

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.)

BORDEAUX, Sept. 27.—The

net met today and adopted by ac-consensus. One decree continues the moratorium during the month of October, but increases the amount of current bank accounts that may be drawn to one-fourth the total increase. The other decree makes the contracts between Frenchmen and subjects of the enemy, in the event of outbreak of hostilities null and void. It is explained the French government considers it would be interfering with the public welfare to generate the outbreak of the war were suspended. If partially executed, the cancelled by order of the court.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—Enactment of a war revenue bill and committee of anti-trust legislation will be taken up by Congress this week.

The war revenue measure, having been passed by the House, is now in the hands of the Senate Finance Committee.

It is expected that the committee will report it by the end of the week.

The anti-trust bill conference report will be taken up Monday.

Administration leaders state that these important measures can be disposed of within ten days.

The Senate Finance Committee will have the war tax bill ready for the Senate as soon as the Clayton bill is disposed of. The committee has under consideration the question of a tax on automobiles

of the Jones bill to pave the way for the restoration of American commerce in the Philippines. This measure is certain to hold Congress. It is expected that the Senate will pass it before adjourn-

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—President Yuan Shi Kai of China is keeping in touch with the National Association of Manufacturers of the United States for the development of China and for the promotion of trade between that country and America. It was announced tonight by the association, which made public a letter received by it from the President of China.

Representatives of the association visited China last July and the new movement, in which the head of the republic is co-operating, is a result of that visit. Details of the tentative understandings reached with the Chinese government, it is stated, will be placed before the directors of the association at its meeting next month.

It also was announced that the President of China has asked the National Association of Manufacturers to nominate a commercial adviser to the Chinese government.

PRESIDENT ATTENDS CHURCH WITH HIS BROTHER.

His Visit Is Made Entirely Unexpected and Car Containing Secret Service Men Follows Him from the Capital—Answer of the Colorado Operators Is Expected Soon.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—Without notice of his coming, President

Woodrow Wilson motored into Baltimore this morning attended church and after dinner in the apartments of his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Wilson, returned to Washington shortly after 3 o'clock

this afternoon.

The President was accompanied from Washington by his brother-in-law, Dr. Stockton Axson, and his cousin, Miss Helen Bone. They were followed by a car containing secret service men. At the Presbyterian Church many persons recognized the President, and he was saluted several times as he passed.

The party occupied front pews reserved for them by the Rev. Dr. Harris E. Kirk, the pastor of the church, and an intimate friend of the President. No change in the services was made on account of the President's visit. The sermon was on the duties and cares of a shepherd. Dr. Kirk said there was great need at the present time of a shepherd, a leader of men.

EXPECTS REPLY FROM OPERATORS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—President Wilson went to Baltimore today to visit his brother, Joseph R. Wilson. He drove over in an automobile with Fred Stockton Axson, his cousin, Miss Helen Bone, arriving in Washington late in the afternoon.

The President considered the reply of the Colorado coal operators to his proposal for settlement of the strike,

but expects another reply within a few days based on his appeal to the operators to further consider their position not to consider the plan suggested.

The Nerves and Their Needs

We do not give much thought to our nervous system when it is working all right but when it goes wrong nature has a way of calling it forcibly to our attention by something that we cannot overlook—pain.

Try to reach a painful nerve with medicine of any sort and you are confronted with a fact that every doctor knows, that the only way to reach the nerves is through the blood.

You see now why Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the great remedy for the blood, are also a great nerve builder. When a nerve becomes inflamed and painful it is—unless caused by an accident—because the blood was not giving it the elements of nourishment it needed. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills build up the blood, the nerves are strengthened, the inflammation subsides and the pain vanishes. By keeping the blood rich and red by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills the danger of nervous breakdown, insomnia, nervous indigestion and all the ailments caused by ill-nourished nerves is greatly lessened. In children the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills banishes the fear of St. Vitus' dance.

The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., will send you a request a good little book on Nervous Disorders. Write for it today. Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

AMERICAN LINER HAS DIFFICULT PASSAGE.

The Philadelphia Does a Thousand Miles in Heavy Fog and Brings Her Passengers to Port after a Trip Delayed by the Weather. French Steamer Also Arrives.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—Two transatlantic liners carrying many Americans from abroad reached port today. The American liner steamer Philadelphia brought 674 passengers here from Liverpool; 531 in the cabin and 143 steerage.

For more than a thousand miles of the voyage a heavy fog prevailed and forced the steamer to run at reduced speed. The French liner reached port too late to dock tonight. The Espagnole of the French line, from Havre, bringing mail, passengers and merchandise. She anchored in quarantine until morning.

The White Star liner Cretic, in whose hold a stubborn cotton fire raged yesterday, was reported to weigh anchor for Genoa, sailed today.

GERMAN COLONIES' FATE IN BALANCE.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.)

ROME (Via Paris) Sept. 27.—The fate of the German colonies will not be decided in the Pacific or in Africa, but in the European battlefields. Such was the assertion made today by Dr. S. Solf, German Secretary of State for Colonies, and former Governor of German Samoa, in a speech in Berlin, according to a dispatch from the German capital.

Dr. Solf said he hoped that in the European theater of war the Germans would finally defeat "our worst enemy," the English, which is a more difficult task than many imagine.

GERMAN CAPTURE BARRIER FORT.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—A wireless dispatch to the German Embassy from Berlin today announces the capture by the Germans of one of the barrier forts south of Verdun. The message follows:

"Official headquarters report that operations are proceeding on the extreme right wing of the German army. In the center of the battle front several attacks have been made on both sides. The French have withdrawn their fire and our artillery is now engaged with forces where the enemy brought up the main body of the Meuse."

"Elsewhere the situation remains unchanged."

ROUT OF CROWN PRINCE SAID TO HAVE SAVED PARIS.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.)

LONDON, Sept. 28.—A Seznane dispatch to the Daily Telegraph dated September 21, says:

"The first German army to be thoroughly whipped on French soil was that of the Crown Prince. Its rout saved Paris."

"At the time of their victory, the French did not know the extent of the damage they had inflicted on the enemy. Actually they had smashed the flower of the German military power."

"Gen. Von Kluck's misfortune was due directly to the rout of the Crown Prince's left wing in the night of September 2nd. The army transport service may have been broken down. This, after the enormous expenditure of ammunition, might have compelled the Crown Prince's army to fall back or be captured."

"Of course, the fighting on this wing continued for several days, but the Germans were only trying to save what was left of the badly crippled army from complete destruction."

"With the Crown Prince retreating, there was nothing left for Gen. Von Kluck and Gen. Von Buelow's armies but to execute the same maneuver. It brought about the battle of the Marne, and all subsequent fighting, and the rumor persists that the Crown Prince was wounded. Whether that is so or not, his army almost disappeared from the theater of operations."

GERMANY A MACHINE.

Merchant of Topeka Denies Report that all Reserves Have Been Summoned to the War.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

TOPEKA (Kan.) Sept. 27.—Reports of famine in Germany and that the Kaiser had called out all of the reserves were denied here by Frank Durbin, merchant, who returned from Germany yesterday.

"Reports that the Emperor has called out all of the reserves are unfounded," he said. "Just before I started home there were 800,000 young men, in various parts of the country, clamoring to go to the front. They were told to stay at home until they were needed."

"Nor is it true that the German army is all on the frontiers. I saw thousands of soldiers in inland cities as I was on my way to the coast."

"Germany is working like a great machine and a great optimism on the part of the people is manifest throughout the country."

HUMANITY OF GERMANS PRAISED BY RUSSIANS.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.)

BERLIN, Sept. 27.—Advice received here and officially made public says:

"A captured Russian officer in a letter to the Novos Vremya of Petrograd praises the humanity exhibited in German hospitals and the untiring efforts of the surgeons on behalf of their patients."

"The Daily Chronicle of London states that the front towers and windows of the Cathedral of Rheims are almost free of damage and the reconstruction will not be difficult. The London Times makes the same statement."

"British cruisers captured two Dutch steamers bound for Rotterdam, loaded with Swedish iron and ore, and diverted their cargoes to British ports at Middleborough. Three other Dutch steamers bound from America to Rotterdam were captured and taken to Plymouth."

"Reports of clashes between Bavarian and Prussian troops, the reported escape of imprisoned French soldiers and the story of the sinking of a German cruiser and two German torpedo boats by the Russian cruiser Bayan, in the Baltic, are officially denied as inventions."

"It is announced that an additional 70,000,000 marks ($17,500,000) has been subscribed to the war loan. The final figures of the German imperial bonds are 3,121,001,300 marks ($780,250,250) and for the treasury bonds 1,289,727,000 marks ($324,931,900), making a total of 4,410,728,300 marks ($1,115,182,250)."

ALLIES ATTACK FALL IN WARSAW.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.)

WARSAW, Sept. 27.—(By Petrograd) Sept. 27.—This morning (probably Saturday) at 5 o'clock a German Zeppelin appeared above the city and dropped many bombs, killing three soldiers. The airship was fired upon, but succeeded in escaping to the city of Tovo-Georgievsk (formerly called Modlin, twenty miles north-west of Warsaw), where the guns of the fortress brought it down.

RUSSIAN ENTRY INTO LEMBERG.

LONDON, Sept. 28.—A Petrograd dispatch to the Daily News quotes a Cosack officer who describes the Russian entry into Lemberg.

"Our turn came," says the officer. "When the Austrians began to give way before our infantry. Then we were let loose on the enemy's broken rear. We soon converted the retreat of some detachments into a rout. We heard men cry out in terror. The Cosacks! The Cosacks!"

"The Hungarian cavalry tried to stop us, but we swept them aside like straw. They had red breeches and beautiful jackets like those worn by our Cosacks, women and fine horses. They were good riders but did not know how to use spears."

"When we, the Don Cosacks, charge we throw into the air blows not only our own weight, but the whole weight of our horses. The Austrians fled in panic."

"The entire morning the Cosacks rode into the conquered town. Nobody fired on us. We were received as friends and brothers. Church bells rang and priests came out and blessed us."

"A young Cosack officer, fresh from the cavalry school, saw a German armored train try to penetrate into Russian Poland. It bristled with machine guns. He divided his small force, sent one-half back behind the train and destroyed part of the train. The Germans thought large forces of Russians were near and abandoned the train backwards. It ran off the rails and was captured."

BOER GENERAL JOINS ALLIES.

BORDEAUX, Sept. 27, 7:45 p.m.—The Boer general, Francois-Joubert Piennar, has arrived at Bordeaux to offer his sword to the allied armies.

"The settlement of the Boer war in South Africa. Now I am going to fight with him," said the general to the correspondent. "I commanded a Boer army during the war in Transvaal, where I received my baptism of fire in civilized warfare."

"I have offered my services unconditionally to the allies. I know how I will be employed, but expect it will be in an advisory capacity and not as a fighting man. In this manner I go to Gen. French's staff."

"The war will be long and fierce. The German army, which I know well, is the finest fighting machine in the world, but we shall beat it in the end, because our armies are something better than a machine."

LIST OF DEAD RUNS LARGE.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.)

BERLIN, Sept. 27 (by way of London, 9:10 p.m.)—The total German casualties in dead, wounded and missing, as officially reported to date, are 104,589. The casualty list announced today adds a total of 10,527 to those previously announced.

The total casualty list is made up as follows:

Dead, 15,674; wounded, 65,008; missing, 23,907.

According to a letter from an officer of the German auxiliary cruiser Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse, this vessel was attached to the battle of the Highflyer, as was asserted, but was blown up when her ammunition was gone. Only a few of the crew were wounded. The officer says that the fire of the Highflyer was extremely poor.

GERMAN CAPTURE BARRIER FORT.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—A wireless dispatch to the German Embassy from Berlin today announces the capture by the Germans of one of the barrier forts south of Verdun. The message follows:

"Official headquarters report that operations are proceeding on the extreme right wing of the German army. In the center of the battle front several attacks have been made on both sides. The French have withdrawn their fire and our artillery is now engaged with forces where the enemy brought up the main body of the Meuse."

"Elsewhere the situation remains unchanged."

Merchant of Topeka Denies Report that all Reserves Have Been Summoned to the War.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

TOPEKA (Kan.) Sept. 27.—Reports of famine in Germany and that the Kaiser had called out all of the reserves were denied here by Frank Durbin, merchant, who returned from Germany yesterday.

"Reports that the Emperor has called out all of the reserves are unfounded," he said. "Just before I started home there were 800,000 young men, in various parts of the country, clamoring to go to the front. They were told to stay at home until they were needed."

"Nor is it true that the German army is all on the frontiers. I saw thousands of soldiers in inland cities as I was on my way to the coast."

"Germany is working like a great machine and a great optimism on the part of the people is manifest throughout the country."

explosion was heard for many blocks. The houses in the vicinity were badly damaged, many of the walls cracking and windows being shattered.

The bomb struck only a block from the American Embassy at No. 5 Rue de Chailiot, where Ambassador Myron T. Herrick, who did not accompany the government to Bordeaux, still makes his home.

In the wake of the bomb flattered a German flag. At the sound of the explosion the promenaders in that section first rushed for shelter, and then as the alarm moved on, they hurried to the scene of the havoc.

A cordon of police was quickly thrown about the debris and the mangled body of the man was removed. Near his body the girl was discovered. Her lower limbs had been shattered. Women in the crowd wept as the child was borne to a hospital.

Among the houses damaged was the residence of the Prince of Monaco. The buildings containing army stores suffered considerably. At the time of the attack services were being conducted in the American Holy Trinity Church in Avenue de la Vierge. Many of the congregation fled to the street.

In the midst of the excitement the aeroplane dropped three more bombs. One landed among a herd of cows pastured on the Auteuil race course. One cow was killed and others toppled over stunned. A third bomb fell in Rue Vaneuse, and a fourth in Rue de la Pompe, a quarter in which many Americans live. Comparatively little damage was done in either instance.

The missiles dropped today were the most powerful used thus far in aerial raids on the city.

GERMAN COLONIES' FATE IN BALANCE.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.)

ROME (Via Paris) Sept. 27.—The fate of the German colonies will not be decided in the Pacific or in Africa, but in the European battlefields. Such was the assertion made today by Dr. S. Solf, German Secretary of State for Colonies, and former Governor of German Samoa, in a speech in Berlin, according to a dispatch from the German capital.

Dr. Solf said he hoped that in the European theater of war the Germans would finally defeat "our worst enemy," the English, which is a more difficult task than many imagine.

ALLIES ATTACK FALL IN WARSAW.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.)

WARSAW, Sept. 27.—(By Petrograd) Sept. 27.—This morning (probably Saturday) at 5 o'clock a German Zeppelin appeared above the city and dropped many bombs, killing three soldiers. The airship was fired upon, but succeeded in escaping to the city of Tovo-Georgievsk (formerly called Modlin, twenty miles north-west of Warsaw), where the guns of the fortress brought it down.

RUSSIAN ENTRY INTO LEMBERG.

LONDON, Sept. 28.—A Petrograd dispatch to the Daily News quotes a Cosack officer who describes the Russian entry into Lemberg.

"Our turn came," says the officer. "When the Austrians began to give way before our infantry. Then we were let loose on the enemy's broken rear. We soon converted the retreat of some detachments into a rout. We heard men cry out in terror. The Cosacks! The Cosacks!"

"The Hungarian cavalry tried to stop us, but we swept them aside like straw. They had red breeches and beautiful jackets like those worn by our Cosacks, women and fine horses. They were good riders but did not know how to use spears."

"When we, the Don Cosacks, charge we throw into the air blows not only our own weight, but the whole weight of our horses. The Austrians fled in panic."

"The entire morning the Cosacks rode into the conquered town. Nobody fired on us. We were received as friends and brothers. Church bells rang and priests came out and blessed us."

"A young Cosack officer, fresh from the cavalry school, saw a German armored train try to penetrate into Russian Poland. It bristled with machine guns. He divided his small force, sent one-half back behind the train and destroyed part of the train. The Germans thought large forces of Russians were near and abandoned the train backwards. It ran off the rails and was captured."

BOER GENERAL JOINS ALLIES.

BORDEAUX, Sept. 27, 7:45 p.m.—The Boer general, Francois-Joubert Piennar, has arrived at Bordeaux to offer his sword to the allied armies.

"The settlement of the Boer war in South Africa. Now I am going to fight with him," said the general to the correspondent. "I commanded a Boer army during the war in Transvaal, where I received my baptism of fire in civilized warfare."

"I have offered my services unconditionally to the allies. I know how I will be employed, but expect it will be in an advisory capacity and not as a fighting man. In this manner I go to Gen. French's staff."

"The war will be long and fierce. The German army, which I know well, is the finest fighting machine in the world, but we shall beat it in the end, because our armies are something better than a machine."

French. The latter tongue is the language of the greater commercial houses and all matters to do with the government of the town. On the other hand, in Brussels, French is much more frequently spoken even by the common people, and is almost universally so in the homes of the better classes.

Ghent, the city in which some newspaper correspondents, barred from the camps of the allies, have taken up quarters, is interesting to Americans because it was there that the famous battle of Ghent was fought in 1813.

close of the war of 1812. It then was called the "Venice of the North" because of the intersecting canals and canals which give it access to a number of islands. The name of Ghent have always been great waters and if their city were threatened today it would be as did the burghers in ancient days.

FAMOUS BELFRIES.

Although Ghent has undergone modernization it contains many interesting old buildings and old streets. The main corners rich in medieval buildings. One of these is the fine early Gothic belfry with its huge gilded roof. The belfry of the Crucifixion and said to have been brought from the Mosque of St. Sophia in Constantinople. This belfry contains a clock which will show the time which appears in Flemish an in caption which, roughly translated reads: "My name is Roland, when I was a boy I ring their victory in Flanders." Belgium's most famous bell is the "carillon" of the "Ghent Belfry," a medieval tower in the heart of the city of Ghent. The bell's melody came from the belfry of which Longfellow wrote:

It stands the belfry old and brown,
Still it watches o'er the town."
One who hears these historic chimings
In the evening and then a few moments later emerges into the Grand Place and hears the tinkling of the cafe pianos and the wail of the violins of a "ladies' orchestra" is struck with a sense of the continuity of life in Ghent and Brussels and has been suddenly transported

The story of the decline of the city is a sad one. The population, which once numbered city people, has since dwindled city to the little more than a tourist center which it is today. full of pathos. Once it had a population of 100,000, and a harbor full of 50,000 souls. In the days of its greatness it was the home of merchants and sailors, who rivalled in wealth and power the great lords of the land. Since almost deserted except for the few tourists and dreamers, were thronged the stevedores, sailors of many nations, and the great ships of the world. It was a city of the East, with its trade with India and the Orient, with its ships from England, Spain and Persia. The magnificence of the city in the days of its greatness is even today a thing of the past. The great palaces of the merchants of the fifteenth century have fallen into decay and this attracts many to the city. The city is a city of the East, full of the clash of arms, the intrigues which afflicted Europe during middle ages, and the treacherary and the old city of Brussels, which adorns a history of most Belgian cities. The city, especially upon a fine Saturday evening in summer, has its bustling life, and the city has set its name upon much that is desirable and historically interesting.

BARON STEUBEN MEMORIAL

The Monument Unveiled to the Marshal Who Trained the Continental Soldiers to Defeat the English.

(St. Louis Globe-Democrat: "Utterance of the President.")

Baron von York, paid a notable tribute to Baron Johann von Steuben recently when the German-American Alliance celebrated a memorial service to commemorate the features of the old home week celebration. Steuben was aid to Washington, George Washington, and in

...master of the American army during the Revolution. Gen. von Steuben was born November 16, 1733, at Magdeburg, and distinguished himself with distinction in the army of Frederick the Great. He sailed for America in 1777, France, on September 26, 1777, America, and on September 26, 1777, he tendered his services to George Washington and to the Continental Congress. Trained in the glorious camp of Frederick the Great, he was in all the campaigns of the Revolution, and he was the best military science of the time. He provided, he wielded out of the hands of the starving soldiers during the winter of 1777-1778, the Valley Forge, and the army that astonished the world. Entirely unversed in the tactics of the day, coming fresh from their farms, country, the rugged continental far from being soldiers until the German "Führer" had in the snow at Valley Forge

earing at them in three languages account of their lack of knowledge
the most elementary evolutions
the American army, he introduced tem and economy in every branch
the service; in a word he organized and became the United States of today.

Ad Baron von Steuben ended his work for his country with the
of the army and the writing of three will codicils, the last of him entitled to the gratitude of Americans. But he did not stop here. He fought through the war, and his revolutionary ideas were generals of the continental ny, and though taken to task by Congress for some of his acts, he remained the American patriot following the yoke of England. About twenty miles north of Utica a thick clump of woods on the banks of the Erie River was established. His grave is on a grant land received by him from the state of New York soon after the close of the Revolutionary War.

But if litigation is growing smaller, this is getting longer. Ten years ago, for example, the federal courts were crowded by each King's judge bench case. In 1912 it was so low as 116, while during the same period the average number of cases tried by the bankruptcy judges fell from ninety-two to sixty-five.

Although arrears have been almost entirely eliminated from King's benches in the federal courts, the same cannot be said of the criminal courts. The latest volume of criminal statistics shows that 12,000 persons were tried at the federal bench in 1912, and that 10,000 were sentenced to three months or more. This delay is bad enough in the case of the guilty, for it keeps them in prison for a long time, but it is worse in the case of the innocent. But in the case of the innocent, and all prisoners, of course, are sumed to be innocent until they convicted—the long detention sent to a grave injustice.

On the Money.

TWIN PAIRS OF HANDS GRIPPED.

Holyoke Heiresses Decline to Give up Cash.

Demand a New Trial of the Famous Will Case.

"Improper Evidence" Basis of Argument Today.

In asking Judge Houser today to grant a new trial of the famous Holyoke will case, involving an estate valued at upwards of $500,000, Hahn & Hahn, attorneys for the defendants, will allege that the evidence introduced at the first trial did not warrant the verdict that Frank H. Holyoke was insane when he made his will. The attorneys also will support their motion by alleging that improper evidence was permitted.

By its verdict the jury in the original trial broke the will which bequeathed to Misses Marjorie and Madeline Holyoke, nieces of the late lumber king of Bangor, Me., practically all of his estate. Contest of the will was instituted by Sydney A. Holyoke and Harry A. Holyoke, brothers and sons of the deceased who were cut off with $100 each. They are represented by former United States Senator Flint and Attorney L. W. Jutten. That Frank H. Holyoke, who died at the Hotel Maryland, Pasadena, October 3, 1911, was of unsound mind when he made his will the jury accepted as a fact largely upon the testimony of Agnes Brooke-Nesbit, an English nurse, who attended Holyoke for some time before his death. On the witness stand she told of several remarkable incidents tending to prove the charge of insanity.

Shortly before his death the nurse declared that he directed her to go to the bureau and get his watch and diamonds. She said she had just started to obey his command when he called her back and asked her if she had chaperoned him. She said she declared he was chasing imaginary chickens all of one night.

Upon another occasion the nurse said Holyoke was unable to leave his bed, told her he wanted to dress for breakfast, as he expected some guests. To humor him, she got his coat and trousers and helped him to dress. He then walked through the coat sleeves. The nurse was emphatic in her belief that Holyoke was of unsound mind.

There were other interesting facts brought out at the trial. According to the evidence, Holyoke had been married three times and to the third wife he left but $1000. In his will Holyoke said: "I make no other provision for her for the reason that on February 6, 1911, by agreement in writing, I made a property settlement with her. I gave her $5000 in cash and agreed to pay her other sums."

"This agreement was made by me after I discovered and secured from her a confession that she had been unfaithful to me."

Referring to his sons and giving his reason for only bequeathing them $100 each, he said: "I make no other provision for them for the reason that for many years past there has been no indication of any filial affection on their part towards me."

Several bequests to charitable institutions were made in the will, including the city of Brewer, Me., for cemetery purposes, $4000; Children's Home of Bangor, $20,000; Bangor Theological Seminary, $15,000; Bangor Home for Aged Men, $30,000; Bangor Public Library, $5000.

The will was executed by Holyoke on August 18, 1911, while he was on his death bed. In attacking the will the attorneys for the contestants alleged that Holyoke was induced to practically disinherit his two sons by "designing persons."

Attorney Edwin F. Hahn, representing the defendant nieces, said yesterday that the fight for a retrial of the case will be a bitter one. It is expected that the arguments will not be completed before the regular hour of adjournment today. They will be started at 10 o'clock.

Resurrection.

DAY OF MINERS TO DAWN AGAIN.

BOARING "HANGTOWN" WILL BE REVIVED FOR CHARITY.

Native Sons and Daughters will labor in replicas of Old Camp's Show Place for Entire Week to Augment Fund for Helpless California Children.

Every visitor to the Hangtown show to be given at the Shrine Auditorium all of next week, commencing Monday night, by the Native Sons and Native Daughters, will help aid the helpless children of California and incidentally, they will be given a taste of life as it was lived in the early days of the Golden State.

Piacerville is the correct name of the place that came to be better known as Hangtown. It was here that justice was dispensed in record-breaking time. The man who was accused of purchasing a horse belonging to any resident of Piacerville was "strung up" first and later his innocence or guilt was inquired into.

Of course, the Hangtown that will be made known at the Shrine Auditorium by the Native Sons and Daughters—for the greater part descendants of these happy people of the pioneer days—will be an entirely different sort of a place, but it will have all the historic "show places" of Hangtown—the Red Light Saloon, the First Chance Saloon, the Last Chance Saloon, Mother Grady's Boarding-house, Riley's Dance Hall with its throng of young men and vivacious girls, the opera-house with a vaudeville show of a decidedly superior type to the ones the residents of the original Hangtown were permitted to see; the novel Hangtown bank with its own peculiar and particular system of currency—and in Hangtown, only Hangtown money will be accepted at any of the features of the big show. The various games of chance, which will recall the alluring methods of the gamblers of the early days, will all be played. All these recollections of the real Hangtown will be reproduced on an elaborate and comprehensive scale.

All the visitor to Hangtown has to do after he enters the Shrine Auditorium is to proceed to the Hangtown Bank, where Herman Lichtenberger and his assistants will exchange the legal tender of the country for Hangtown currency. The Native Sons and Daughters will do the rest.

The Natives propose that the marshal, Eugene Biscailus, shall earn his salary, and to this end they will throw into the Hangtown battle any prominent visitor to the show—perhaps several—who may show a tendency to commit the most heinous of all Hangtown's crimes—not spending enough money. The Hangtown marshal promises that all such offenders will meet with a speedy and deserving fate, that the fund to help the cause of California's helpless and homeless children may be augmented.

SERIOUS CHARGE SYET UNANSWERED

GIRD TO FACE COURT FOR MAN-SLAUGHTER TODAY.

Miss Gilbert, Alleged to Have Driven the Car that Ran Down and Killed San Diego Contractor, Maintains Silence as to Accident. Penalty is Heavy.

When Miss Ethel Gilbert, charged with the killing of Contractor C. D. Ames by running him down with her auto, stands before Justice Young this morning for a preliminary hearing, she will have proven that she is one woman who can control her tongue.

Ever since the alleged discovery, nearly a week after the killing, that the girl of mystery who drove the car was Miss Gilbert, sister of the automobile brokers of that name, she has maintained impenetrable silence regarding the affair.

Not a word has she allowed to escape her. Friends, relatives and officials inquired of her, failed to secure any inkling of how the accident happened; whether it was the fault of the machine; of the contractor or possibly of herself. Little wrinkles of thought, almost frowns, have worn their way into places that were meant for smiles in the dark oval contours of the face, which can scarcely be beyond her teens.

Killing a man has been a serious experience, even though she should be acquitted of years' imprisonment. L. Mead, her companion, a few days ago paid a fine after pleading guilty to violation of the ordinance requiring reports of automobile accidents to the police department.

Miss Gilbert is charged with manslaughter, which is punishable with from one to ten years' imprisonment and should she be convicted, will be the first woman to suffer for reckless driving, which is a part of the allegation against her. The victim of the car was in the contracting business in Los Angeles and San Diego and was a man of considerable prominence.

THE JAPANESE QUESTION.

Little Brown Men in Session at Santa Barbara Pledge Friendship. An Elaborate Celebration.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]
SANTA BARBARA, Sept. 27.—The Japanese society of this city held an all-day session today, celebrating the issuance to the society of a State charter. Members are also circulating a paper containing questions for property owners to answer, to ascertain Santa Barbara's attitude on the oriental question as it relates to Japanese leasing farming lands or renting homes in this city. The celebration is one of the most elaborate ever given here by an oriental people.

Vice-President K. Fukushima of the Japanese association, is chairman of the day's events. Among the speakers during the afternoon were Asa Kato, correspondent here of the Los Angeles Japanese newspaper, Raso Shimpou; Mrs. Kawata, representing the Japanese women of this county; T. R. Arikawa, of the Japanese Young Men's Association, and a friend of Japan. Japanese in America must reflect this attitude of friendship. There will never be peace in this country until the Japanese are always and everywhere friendly to America. "We are friends as a nation; history shows America always united and a friend of Japan. Japanese in America must reflect this attitude of friendship. There will never be peace in this country until the Japanese are always and everywhere friendly to America."

UNDELIVERED TELEGRAMS.
There are telegrams at the Western Union for Charles Akers, A. C. Bigger, Phil Cook, Mrs. Fannie Coffman, T. H. Donahue, Edward G. Grubb, Fred Hoffman, Mrs. Kathryn Lynn, Henry E. Lambert, Mrs. Adolph Lovey, Mrs. Martha Mackey, James R. Moody, M. A. McHenry, Mrs. J. W. Thompson and Mrs. C. A. Wood.

Los Angeles Harbor.

SEVENTY-THOUSAND TONS OF FREIGHT HERE DAILY.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 27.—The next meeting of the Harbor Truck Highway Association will be held at San Pedro. The association met recently at Compton. Previous meetings have been held at Wilmington, and a later meeting will probably be held at Long Beach.

"Over 70,000 tons of freight are moved over Los Angeles streets every day," stated Traffic Manager Gregson of the Los Angeles Associated Jobbers, in urging the importance of the proposed new highway. "and the railroads are doomed so far as short hauls are concerned. Thirty per cent. of the freight from one dock at the harbor is now moved by auto truck and within a few years practically all the freight for short hauls will be handled by trucks—unless we perfect the airships and take it away from them."

The route proposed for the new road is from Los Angeles over Alameda street to the harbor closely paralleling the Southern Pacific tracks on a low grade. It is proposed to make the road with a concrete base that will stand heavy traffic. Already the present county road is being cut up by heavy trucks and the county Supervisors are facing the alternative of rebuilding the road soon or providing a new route. The new road making surveys for the new road. This work will be completed soon and the estimation of the cost

CHURCH GROWS UP AT BEACH.

New Methodist Congregation Meets First Time.

Sunday-school Convention Parade Arranged.

Compromise is Offered by Bath-house Company.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LONG BEACH, Sept. 27.—Another church institution was added to the long list of Long Beach religious organizations today when Methodists congregated for the initial service of the Belmont Heights Methodist Episcopal Church. For the present services will be held in the East Fourth-street school house. Later, a handsome edifice will be erected by the eastside. The pastor temporarily filling the pulpit is Rev. J. E. Herinton, who is also pastor of the Trinity Methodist Episcopal Church.

More than forty members attended the first service this morning. The following officers were elected: Trustees, R. I. James, Charles A. Seely, Edward J. Goetz; stewards, Winifred B. Seely, Winnie K. Palmer, Viola James and Gertrude Howley; class leader, Charles A. Seely.

RELIGIOUS PARADE.
A parade of men and boys three miles long or over, will be one of the features of the State convention of Sunday schools, which convenes in this city October 6, for three days.

The parade will assemble at the First Presbyterian Church at 5 p.m. on Wednesday and on the return from the march through the business district and a part of the residence section, a banquet will be served the marchers at the church.

E. J. Wightman, chairman of the General Convention Committee, presided over the meeting. President J. E. Warren of the California Sunday-school Association delivered an address full of optimism for the coming year. This convention will be the first of its kind in the state, and will set a high-water mark in attendance.

Reports from various committees were read by H. V. Ketcherside, Finance; W. M. Peake, Parade; E. I. Fisher, Publicity; E. W. Patterson, Music; G. H. Marshall, Entertainment. Secretary W. Q. Glass stated that the decorations would be in red.

MIMICS CHRIST.
E. W. Darling, who has been lecturing in queer sentences at the entrance to the pier, posed the white in a one-piece brown garment which did little more than cover his torso, was taken to the County Hospital today to be examined for insanity.

Darling has been creating a sensation by his queer religious doctrine and had gained many converts, who paid him a dollar to accompany him to the station. Darling has an idea that he resembles the conventional pictures of Christ and trims his beard accordingly.

SERIOUSLY CHARGED.
Henry Stanley, aged 45 years, was arrested by Detectives Winters and Denny today and charged with contributing to the delinquency of a 15-year-old girl of good family. The warrant was issued from Justice Underwood's court.

The officers state that Stanley has been posing the girl in the nude at his residence, No. 719 Medio street, and circulating the prints among his friends. The officers found several of the pictures in the possession of the girl, who was taken to the Los Angeles Detention Home.

BEACH BRIEFS.
Col. Charles R. Drake has agreed to a stipulation that, in case the suit now pending between the bath-house company and the city is decided in favor of the municipality, he would leave the city from the contract to buy his property for auditorium purposes. This suit is similar to the one decided in favor of the Strand Company in the Superior Court. Opponents of the bond issue, it is said, will refer tomorrow to the San Diego waterfront case, which, Col. Drake says, has no bearing on the issue.

News comes from J. M. Mathews, father of the missing salesman, J. Earl Mathews, that the traveler's trunk was located in a Kansas City hotel but no trace has otherwise been found of him. It is believed that Mathews has been foolishly dealt with.

AN INDIAN ON WARPATH.

Chased a Crowd with a Knife and Punished a Policeman during Attempt to Arrest Him.
[Philadelphia Inquirer:] Wild experiences with a happy Indian caused great confusion early yesterday morning in Kensington. James Ross, 29 years of age, a descendant of the braves who bartered Manhattan Island for a jug of rum, invaded the noisy and gay city of late Saturday night and left with stimulated nerves. He got as far as Fifth and Huntington streets without attracting more than passing notice, but there he made things hum. Armed with a knife, the police say, he chased a crowd of about fifty citizens who were aroused by his hilarity. Patrolman Roscher of the Eighteenth district met the inebriated aborigine and grappled with him. A crowd followed the result in a torn uniform for the bluecoat and a battered physique for the celebrating redskin.

The officer got his invalid to the Episcopal Hospital for treatment, but the doctors did not reckon with the Indian's cunning. Before they had a chance to fix him up he darted through the door of the dispensary and made off at a rapid rate. Sgt. Hillegan cut short the flight, however, and got the celebrator to the Eighteenth District Station House. Magistrate Glenn gave him thirty days in the county prison at a hearing in the morning.

the stone. Smith dropped to the pavement, but rose again to find himself the center of a mob. A police automobile loaded with detectives arriving promptly, whisked him away. At Central Police Station he was charged with assault to murder.

Smith charged that his wife had sent poisoned candy to him. This she denied and explained that she had written his name and address on a sheet of paper at his request and he had sent himself the sweets, using her writing as a label. Smith says the candy is now in the hands of the city chemist for analysis.

CANNING WITHOUT SUGAR.
The Department of Agriculture Proves that Peaches and Apples can be Preserved in Water.

[St. Joseph News Press:] For the benefit of those who shy at the price of sugar, the Department of Agriculture at Washington has recommended the following method of putting up peaches and apples without any sugar:

"If the price of sugar is prohibitive one may can peaches so that they will keep indefinitely by using plain water instead of syrup. The following recipe may be used: Remove skins from peaches by immersing in boiling water for about one minute and then dipping in cold water. Place whole peaches in glass jars or tins and fill jars with hot water. Place rubber and top in place and sterilize for fifteen minutes in hot-water-bath outfit, twelve minutes in water-seal, ten minutes in five-pound steam pressure. Of course, the peaches when removed from the jar will not taste as sweet as those canned in syrup. However, if sweetening is desired it may be added when the fruit is to be eaten. This canning method is good for canning syrups containing varying amounts of sugar. A very thin syrup may be used for about one minute and then dispense entirely with the sugar."

"Apples may also be canned (for applesauce, pie filling, etc.) using plain water instead of syrup. Department specialists have repeatedly canned them by this method. In the case of apples, jars should be sterilized sixteen minutes in hot-water-bath outfit, twelve minutes in water-seal, ten minutes under five pounds of steam, or four minutes under ten pounds of steam."

It thus appears that, notwithstanding the price of sugar, there is no necessity of going without peach and apple preserves. Rather, considering the prevailing prices for foodstuffs in general, it would seem that a plentiful supply of fruit preserves might prove exceedingly convenient next winter. In any event, here are the department recipes, and the economical housewife is at liberty to take them or leave them, as suits her pleasure.

MRS. BEIDEL TELLS WOMEN

How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Kept Her in Health for 14 Years.

Shippensburg, Pa.—"It was several years ago that I started taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I then suffered terribly every month. My husband bought me a bottle of it and it helped me right away. Then after my second child was born I had a female trouble very badly and I used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and in a short time was cured and have been in excellent health since. I always praise the Compound whenever I have an opportunity as I know it helped me and will help others. Lately I have given the Compound to my daughter and I wish all suffering women would take it and be convinced of its worth."

—Mrs. JAMES A. BEIDEL, 113 N. Penn Street, Shippensburg, Pa.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotic or harmful drugs, and to-day holds the record of being the most successful remedy for female ills we know of, and thousands of voluntary testimonials on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., seem to prove this fact.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

Ed Klepfer's Winning Streak Is Broken by the Oaklets.

OAKS SPLIT WITH TIGERS.

Ed Klepfer is Walloped in the Morning.

Harry Ables Slams a Three-bagger.

Henley and White Win Second Contest.

(BY DEBBIE WEBB—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 27.—By winning both games of today's double, the Oakland Athletics broke the winning streak of the San Francisco Giants. The scores were 5 to 2, and 1 to 0.

The first game was a close contest, with the Athletics leading 3 to 2 in the fifth inning. The Giants, however, rallied in the sixth and seventh innings to win the game. The second game was a more one-sided affair, with the Athletics dominating from start to finish.

Ed Klepfer, who had been on a winning streak of 10 games, was walloped in the first game. He pitched only four innings, allowing five runs and six hits. Harry Ables, the Athletics' star, hit a three-bagger in the third inning, giving the team a 3 to 0 lead.

In the second game, the Athletics' pitching was even better. They allowed only one run and two hits in seven innings. The Giants were unable to get any offense going, and the Athletics won the game 1 to 0.

The Athletics' victory in the second game was a significant blow to the Giants' morale. It showed that the Athletics were capable of winning even when the odds were against them. The Giants, on the other hand, seemed to be losing their edge.

The Athletics' manager, Charles Combs, was confident that his team would continue to win. He said that the team was in good shape and that they were ready to take on any challenge.

The Giants' manager, John McGraw, was not so optimistic. He said that his team was tired and that they needed a break. He also said that he was concerned about the team's performance in the second game.

LOBER AND BAYLESS HIT BALL HARDEST.

Ty Averages 1.62 Bases Per Lick, but Ranks Low as a Consistent Hitter—Bayless Hits Both Hard and Timely—Abstein is Hardest Hitting First Baseman. Melan Also Ranks High.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

ASKED who is the hardest hitter in the Coast League, nine out of ten fans would pick some man who is above the 300 mark. They would hardly expect to locate the prize slugger down in the 250 class.

Many would off-hand pick Fisher or Howard, the nominal leaders, or Wolter, the real king of Coast League batsmen.

But the party who hits the ball for the greatest mileage, that is, gets the greatest average bases per hit, appears to be our old friend and comrade, Ty Lober, who is languishing far down the list with a batting average of .251 for the season.

To the date of compiling these averages, Ty has averaged 1.62 bases on each hit. Bayless ranks next with 1.47 and Melan is third with 1.43.

Wolter, who is the author of more safe outs than any other man in the league, with 223, and who has hit for a far greater total of bases than any other player, ranks eighth in the matter of average bases per hit, with 1.37.

Lober has ripped off but 123 hits, and has lammed the ball for a total of but 199 bases, as against 312 bases for Wolter, so it will readily be seen that the length of a player's hit does not necessarily mean that he is of great value to his club. Frequency is what counts.

For instance, Elliott, who ranks next to Wolter with a percentage of .321, has been able to get but an average of 1.23 bases out of his numerous clouts. Rowdy hits the ball harder than these figures would indicate, but his heavy work behind the bat this season has not put him in that fresh and frisky condition to turn singles into extra base drives.

The same holds true of Del Howard. Del is a slugger from way back, but is lacking in the speed with which to make the most of his drives.

Bayless, who ranks second to Lober in the percentage of bases per hit, is of far more value as a stickman. Dick has made forty-five more hits than the Portland outfielder, and tops him in everything except home runs, Ty having one the better of him there.

Melan stands next to Bayless with 1.43. Alexander is the hardest hitting catcher in the league with 1.41. Schaller and Fitzgerald rank high among the Seals with 1.39 each. Wolter gets farther on his hits than any other Los Angeles batter, and Moran is Sacramento's best in this respect with an average of 1.37.

Abstein is the hardest hitting first baseman, Bill's hits averaging him 1.35 bases. Derrick and Ness are three points below him.

The following figures show the average bases per hit made by the leading extra-base hitters in the league, and show the total hits as well as the total number of bases netted:

Moriarty's brilliant fielding twice stopped Washington's rallies. Score: Washington, 10; Seattle, 0.

Seattle's pitcher, Moriarty, was in excellent form today. He pitched a complete game, allowing only one run and two hits. The Mariners were unable to get any offense going, and the Mariners won the game 10 to 0.

The Mariners' victory in the second game was a significant blow to the Mariners' morale. It showed that the Mariners were capable of winning even when the odds were against them. The Mariners, on the other hand, seemed to be losing their edge.

The Mariners' manager, Charles Combs, was confident that his team would continue to win. He said that the team was in good shape and that they were ready to take on any challenge.

mayed to third, where he was detained until Tobin popped to Johnson, our exceptionally clever little shortstop.

Johnson and Gerald Hayes got into a jam over a decision at second base in the fourth. Ernie stole that base with two out, Corban dropping the ball. Hayes overlooked this more or less important fact, and called Johnson up out of the dust, he had the ball in his hands, which was the best proof in the world that Corban didn't have it. Dillon and all the other boys picked individually and en masse, but they were unable to make any field goals.

Ryan saved his mates from a shut-out by doubling in the fifth, the ball almost going into the right-field bleachers. Had it done so, it is not likely that it would have hit anybody. One was down when this happened. Wolter singled Jack to third, and swiped the Keystone station. Metzger scored Ryan with a fly to Tobin, Jack beating Joe's throw by about three many strides. Maggart knied out to Mundorf.

San Francisco devastated the country some more in the ninth. Corban led off with a single, chased around to third on a couple of outs and piled over the pentagon when Jones jolted the ball to center for one base.

MORNING GAME.
The Seals slid along two runs to the good for seven innings, and it began to look like the same old story of Charley Cheek's pals not making any runs behind him. Charley was doing his whole duty by allowing only few hits.

However, there was a sudden change for the better in the eighth, and Pernell, who had been pitching stoutly, was pounded in a way that he will remember for some time to come. It may even take him years to work the soreness out of his pride.

In that round, the Angels plucked the game out of the fire with four runs, the explosion consisting of two wholesome singles and a home run by Joe Gedeon, who by one stroke of his versatile bat, earned his season's salary. Joe's blow was one of the longest ever seen on the hillside.

HOW IT WAS.
When Pernell got licked he did it in a hurry. The suffering seldom is prolonged. He either pitches swell ball or he goes down and is knocked groggy in some one round.

Fans still recall his fatal attempt to relieve a pitcher in the ninth two years ago. On that occasion he threw up just one ball, and Helma Helmlinger knocked that over the fence for the winning run. Saturday, Metzger and Wolter lived, but in the fourth when they didn't seem to have a chance, and yesterday morning he looked like a cinch to win until the boys suddenly began to rattle the fence boards.

Metzger started the eighth with a fly in left, that Coligan muffed, he being afraid that "him might bump into him, although he denied any such intentions. Riff Schaller quit the place in the sixth, complaining that he was worn out by the legs. But for the fact that Bill's legs deserted him in his hour of need, the result might have been different. For Coligan would then have been on the bench where he could render us no help. Maggart followed with a sprightly single to center, and Abstein sacrificed. Ellis hit Cortwright on his right kneecap, knocking the same around on the back side of his leg.

Metzger and Maggart coming home, tying the score.

SOME RIDE.
At this important juncture, Gedeon lammed the ball over the automobile screen in left, the playful sphere hitting the outer fence on the first bounce. Some wallop.

Mundorf scored in the first inning on a walk, a brace of outs and a passed ball. Even then he would not have counted had not Downs, who was at the plate, put up a fine interference for him. Boles made a quick recovery of the ball, but Downs refused to get out of the way when he tried to throw it to Cheek.

Schaller, Downs and Corban bunched hits for a run in the fourth.

The scores:

DEATH ANGEL
MELTS HEART.

Club Woman May Drop Divorce Case Naming Nurse.

Husband Lies Dying, Alleged Affinity Attending.

Traffic Managers to Grace Huntington Lawn.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.] PASADENA, Sept. 28.—Hir heart overflowing with pity because her husband is lying at the point of death in the home of "the other woman," Mrs. Hattie E. Allen, wife of Clark F. Allen, may drop her divorce proceedings.

Mrs. Allen has been in consultation with her lawyers, Bennett, Turnbull & Thompson, all week and unless they advise otherwise, she will drop the suit. Allen, who has been hovering between life and death for more than a month, has been in the constant care of a physician and Miss Alma Ryan, the pretty nurse who is named as co-respondent. He is suffering with diabetes and the doctors do not believe that he will recover.

SENATIONAL CHARGES. In Mrs. Allen's complaint are charges of a sensational nature; she alleges that her husband showed the fascinating and beautiful nurse marked attention and that he furnished some of the money when she built her South Pasadena house which cost about $6000.

Allen is 55 years old, while the nurse is about 25, and it is alleged that he left his home about a year ago and has been in her company since. At the time when the suit was filed the latter part of last June, Mrs. Allen's attorneys asserted that they had evidence of a startling nature which they would disclose at the trial, which is set for October 8.

Mrs. Allen asked for a divorce and a property settlement on statutory grounds. Allen is said to be wealthy and owns considerable property here. They have one child, a boy about 16 years old.

Mrs. Allen is one of the prominent clubwomen of Pasadena; she is a member of the Parent-Teacher Association and of the Woman's Civic League.

LAWN BREAKFAST. When the railroad traffic managers hold their national convention in Los Angeles, perhaps one of the most honored will be the breakfast on the great circular lawn of the Hotel Huntington on Saturday morning at 10:30 o'clock.

While a stringed orchestra plays the party of "breakfasters" can feast on a magnificent view as well as the viands of the table. Perhaps from one great board made of California redwood, which will center the half-acre lawn, 550 traffic managers will partake of this wonderful breakfast.

To add charm to the occasion beautiful Pasadena society girls, dressed as Japanese, will serve punch from the tea-houses in the Japanese gardens. The management is planning some notable affairs for the winter. The grand opening of the hotel is to be January 5, but many guests are expected to arrive about Christmas.

CITY BRIEFS. Proceedings have been started for opening up Holly street by widening and extending it. This would relieve to a great extent the congestion on Colorado and Union streets.

Property owners, who have signed the petition ask that Holly street be opened as widened from Fair Oaks to Mariposa. They also want the street widened to seventy or eighty feet between Raymond and Fair Oaks.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.] WHITTIER, Sept. 27.—Dr. C. C. Williams was chosen to head the work of the Men's League of the Friends Church here at the annual meeting of the league Friday evening. The occasion was also the annual roll call of members and enthusiasm for the work of this large organization for the past and future was very marked. Allen U. Tomlinson was elected vice-president, and Prof. E. H. Perry of Whittier College was retained as secretary. The Men's League of the Friends Church has a membership of over 200 and its work is felt in church and social lines in the city.

CIRCUIT RIDER
OF OLDEN DAYS.NESTOR OF BAPTIST PREACHERS
NEARLY HUNDRED YEARS OLD YESTERDAY.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.] ARTESIA, Sept. 27.—Rev. John Allen Freeman, nestor of Baptist ministers of Southern California, celebrated his 93rd birthday anniversary today.

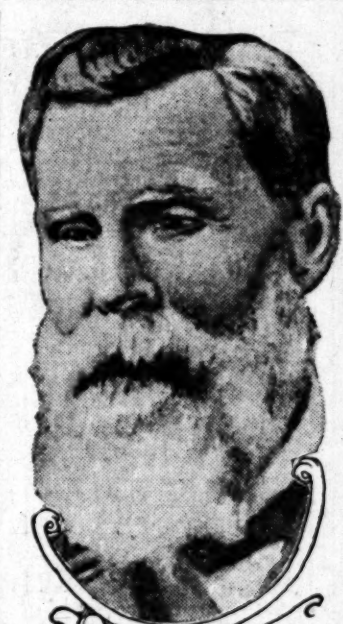

When Rev. Mr. Freeman made his first trip to California it occupied seven months. The long journey was made with ox team, in the year 1857. He settled at San Bernardino, where he was pastor of the first Baptist church organized there. Later he removed to El Monte, and was pastor there. For a long time he supplied both the San Bernardino and the El Monte churches. At that time there was no railroad service and he made the trip on horseback, a distance of fifty miles. No salary was received by him.

He was elected the first Superintendent of Schools that San Bernardino county had. He ordained the first Baptist preacher in Southern California. Notwithstanding the hardships which were experienced in crossing the plains from Texas to California, and the worries and trouble he has had since, Mr. Freeman is in excellent health at his advanced age.

Rev. Mr. Freeman, A. S. Harris and I. C. Curtis, all pioneers, organized the Baptist church at Santa Ana in 1874. Mr. Harris and Mr. Curtis are not living. Mr. Freeman owns one of the four Artesia wells that were first put down here and it was after these wells that the town was named.

At the reunion in honor of the aged retired minister were two couples whom the guest of honor had married in Texas in 1851. They were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Eads, who reside on McClintock street, Los Angeles, and Mr. and Mrs. James Elliott, who were married in 1855. They reside in Artesia.

Mr. Freeman's children were present and include Mrs. Harriet Hollingsworth, who has been employed as an emergency teacher in the Los Angeles city schools for several years; Miss Ellen Freeman, John F. Freeman, now constable of Artesia district; William F. Freeman, Uplands; Richard Freeman, A. J. Freeman and Thomas L. Freeman, residing at Artesia.

MISREPRESENTED BY HOUSE-TO-HOUSE CANVASSERS.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.] ALHAMBRA, Sept. 27.—Wrathful because their credulity has been variously imposed upon by recent intervals during the summer by wily solicitors, the housewives of the city and neighboring communities plan a warm reception to the next agent or peddler who appears.

Giving a mythical Los Angeles address as the place where the essence he showed were made, an oily-tongued stranger and his well-trained emissaries reaped a rich harvest selling flavoring extracts which have proved to be such rank imitations that the women do not dare use them. In one case a young miss calling herself "Miss Jones" got a little tangled in her story of earning a scholarship and said she was a senior at the local High School. Her prospective victim was a teacher, and discovering the fact, "Miss Jones" beat a hasty retreat.

At almost every house where they stopped the "home-cured ham" peddlers separated the thrifty housewives from their money. They made their visit early in the week and are thought to be identical with the outfit victimizing residents of the two Pasadenas recently.

Now the generous ones are beginning to wonder where are the four magazines for which subscriptions, to commence early in September, were generally given. The subscriptions were sought by a well-dressed, well-mannered young man who told of his efforts to work his way through a northern college so effectively that he met with few refusals. He thanked the generous ones profusely, but in light of developments regarding hams and flavoring extracts, the subscribers for the magazines do not expect a more substantial return for their investment.

TIA JUANA BULL FIGHT.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.] SAN DIEGO, Sept. 27.—About 2000 persons attended the Mexican bull fight at Tia Juana today, the first held for many months. Gen. Baltazar Ayiles, Governor of Lower California, and Col. Tenorio, who were here from Ensenada, were among the spectators. Harter, a well-known matador who has participated in many former bull fights at Tia Juana, with three assistants, took part. Aside from the bull fight, the town presented a gay appearance with its unusual crowds, and gambling games of all kinds flourished throughout the day.

SELLS INDIAN WHISKY. [LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.] SANTA MONICA, Sept. 27.—D. P. McCauley, who lives at the New York motion picture studio-camp in Santa Ynez Canyon, was arrested at the mountain plant today on a charge of selling intoxicating liquor to an Indian, Pete Red Elk, a brave, who does odd jobs' stunts for the camera. He was found in the park near the bluff in a happy condition of intoxication. He told Detective F. F. Rico that he had purchased the whisky from McCauley. Officer Wright questioned the Indian and the story was divulged in short order. The white man was placed in the jail and will be turned over to the Federal authorities tomorrow.

PUMPING PLANTS
DEVELOP LAND.

Electrical Power Aids Ranch Owners to Grow.

Twenty Thousand Acres of Orchards Irrigated.

Schools to Exhibit at San Diego Exposition.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.] SANTA ANA, Sept. 27.—That 20,000 acres of orchard are irrigated with water from pumping plants is a statement made today by W. L. Delming, district manager of the Southern California Edison Company. Through pumping plants, pastures and land used for growing beans and grain have been turned into citrus fruit, walnut and apricot orchards.

Deiming, as a "blue juice" man is especially interested in the pumping plants run by the city, of which there are 400 out of 700 in the county. To run the plants, the Edison company supplies a connected load of 12,000 horse power. Indicating the advancement made in the use of electricity, Deiming shows that 15,699 horse power is carried on the company's lines in the Santa Ana district, as against 1159 horse power in 1905. Until pumping plants were proven successful, many of the 20,000 acres now irrigated by pumping plants were considered almost worthless. Water made a great difference. Land worth $100 an acre went to $400 and $500 in some sections, and $1000 in others. Some of the bean growing land worth $250 for beans, became worth $1200 for citrus fruit.

EXTENSIVELY USED. Electrically propelled plants are being used extensively to supplement the gravity flow of the two biggest irrigation companies in the county—the Santa Ana Valley Irrigation Company, which supplies lands around Olive, Orange, Santa Ana and Tustin, and the Anaheim Union Water Company, which irrigates lands around Anaheim, Placentia and Fullerton.

These two companies get their gravity water from the Santa Ana River. Four months of each year they operate five plants day and night, taking a constant supply of 1500 horse power in juice. One of the Anaheim Union Water Company's wells throws a stream of 450 inches. The San Joaquin Fruit Company, which owns 1000 acres near Tustin, developed its water in the lowlands and by pump boosted it to the lands where orchards were afterward set out. Through pumping plants alone 1000 acres was transformed from dry farming to irrigated land.

In the last year the county's pumping plants have increased in number and the area of irrigated lands is constantly increasing. The development through pumping plants is hardly well begun. Prominent irrigationists say that much of the future development of this county will be through its pumping plants.

NEWS NOTES.

County Superintendent of Schools R. P. Mitchell is to send a circular letter to all teachers in the county, asking them to save from their pupils' work such matter as will do to exhibit at the exposition at San Diego. Hugh J. Baldwin, superintendent of the San Diego county schools, will be director of the school exhibit for the several southern counties. Mitchell will send photographs of some of the schools of this county.

T. C. Garnett says that Arthur Keach swindled him on two horse and mule trades. According to the complaint, Garnett's allegation is that he was defrauded in a deal that Keach offered him to square up Garnett's loss in the first trade. In the first trade Keach had a team of horses supposed to be worth $500. They were windbroken and worth only $100, he charges. Keach then traded a pair of mules for this team. The mules were also windbroken, he alleges. Garnett asks $425 damages.

The Olive Milling Company today paid $25 for selling flour on which the net weight was not marked. The Santa Ana Wholesale Grocery Company also paid $25. It sold salmon without having the net contents marked on the cans.

MOTOR BIKERS
ARE UNHORSED.TAKE WRONG SIDE OF STREET AND COME TO GRIEF.
OTHER INCIDENTS.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.] VENICE, Sept. 27.—Two motorcyclists, trying to proceed on the wrong side of the street this morning, collided with a Pacific motor bus. Their machine was wrecked and they were slightly injured. They are J. R. Smith and A. R. Spencer of Orange, and they were riding tandem on the motorcycle, which was badly wrecked. The accident happened at the intersection of Windward avenue and Trolleyway. The two riders were only scratched by the collision, and had to return to their home by other means.

Richard Smith, 20 years old, slid down the chute in the bath house yesterday afternoon and struck his head en route to the water and sustained a bad bruise. At first it was thought he had concussion of the brain, for he was unconscious when taken to the St. Katherine Hospital. He was only knocked out, however, and was able to return to his home in Los Angeles. He said he lived at First and Main streets.

CAUGHT LOADED.

Eddie Boyd, 11 years old, who lives at No. 208 West Fifty-second street, and Willie Baldwin, who lives at No. 155, on the same street, were picked up last evening by Officer Watson of the local police force and taken to the City Jail, where it was found that they were carrying concealed weapons; each had a large revolver. The two youthful adventurers ran away from their homes Saturday morning. Young Boyd left a note for his family stating that he was on his way to the exposition city. Incidentally he cleaned up close to $10 of the family's savings, with which to pay his expenses. His young partner had $3.05 when searched. The father of Eddie came to the beach this morning and took the runaway back to the city.

BUSINESS.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.] SANTA BARBARA, Sept. 27.—A steamer owned by Santa Barbara people for daily trips between the city and Los Angeles is the plan. The matter has been discussed by the Chamber of Commerce rectors.

It is proposed to make a round trip daily between Santa Barbara and Los Angeles, giving the voyagers at least two hours to shop with Los Angeles merchants. One corporation here has pledged $5000 toward the purchase of a steamer. George Vorhies of New York next week to select a steamer.

TO DRAIN SWAMP.

Dr. E. F. Winchester, City Health Officer, has secured a co-operation of the Southern Pacific to drain the swamp lands along the river in the principal element in the plan. If the campaign is successful it is believed that a very large tract close to the main section of the town will soon be reclaimed.

PAVING CONTRACT.

The contract for paving Valley street has been awarded to P. A. Rinaldi & Co., of San Francisco, for $74,913.62. Over a year ago proceedings to pave Valley street were first started. Great expense from property owners developed and specifications were changed a number of times. The completion of the project will give Santa Barbara a permanent highway for many miles proper to the Normal School campus on the foothills.

FINE-LAYING BOAT.

The mine-planting boat, the E. Armistead, sailed for San Diego after a long stop in the harbor is bound for Honolulu. It will be the first of a series of boats to attention from Santa Barbara, when its character becomes known.

SAVE DROWNING MAN.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.] OCEAN PARK, Sept. 27.—Nearly 2000 persons gathered to see the surf boat races here today, saw Duke Kahanamoku, the dusky swimmer from Hawaii, and Cliff Bowes, South Coast champion, and "Skyball" Dave Moreno bring the man to shore and safety.

The exhausted swimmer was Edward Emerson of Santa Monica and his narrow escape is due probably to the fact that the surf was being cleared of bathers preparatory to the running of the races.

Great excitement prevailed when his cries were heard and the champion swimmers were into the ocean in a moment and to the man's aid. He was semi-conscious but was soon completely revived in the bath-house.

SURF ACCIDENT.

The unusual part of the mishap is that the woman was caught by a huge breaker, tossed upon the beach, and came to a stop in such a manner that her leg became twisted under her body, snapping the bones. She was not hit by any obstacle, the force of the heavy breaker being sufficient to break the bones.

The injured bather was taken to the St. Catherine Hospital immediately, where doctors set the broken bones. Mrs. McNeely is still at the hospital, where she will be confined for several days. She is 60 years old.

All along the bay an extremely heavy surf pounded on the hard sands and only experienced swimmers ventured out into the line of rollers. When the high breakers come like they did today it is wise for the average surf swimmer to stay inside of the line of pounding salt water, say experts.

FALLS FROM TRAIN. John Johnson, 84 years of age, a former furniture worker of Spokane, was taken to the Receiving Hospital late last night in a serious condition as a result of a fall as he was leaving a train at the Arcade Station. One leg was broken and it is thought that he was injured internally.

TO DRAIN SWAMP. Dr. R. F. Winchester, City Health Officer, has secured the co-operation of the Southern Pacific in a move to drain the swamp lands along the river to the right of the city on the east side of the river. The company is sending him an expert sanitary engineer from New Orleans.

It is planned to put in a system of drains which will carry the water into the ocean. Subsurface drains are in the principal business plan. It is believed that a very large district close to the main section of the town will soon be reclaimed.

Burbank and Majestic

"LADY EILEEN"
IS PURE JOY.

BURBANK PRIZE PLAY PROVES ENTIRELY DELIGHTFUL.

Little English Lady Brought Over
for the Lead in Everything Desirable, and Stanley Creates a Finished Character—Miss Travers
Also Scores a Success.

BY HENRY CHRISTEN WARNACK

In "Lady Eileen," the Moroso prize play, produced at the Burbank
for the first time yesterday, Geraldine Bonner and Hutchinson Boyd, the authors, have given us a chaste comedy of pure delight. In casting this dainty and delicious bit, Mr. Moroso has given us of the Burbank's best plus Miss Lillian Kemble Cooper, as Lady Eileen herself, a fresh, little English beauty, directly from London, who is all sunshine and charm and more than adequate for the pretty role.

The piece is in three acts and requires about two hours and a half for playing. The action is brisk, the lines clean and keen, the story sweet and the plot amusing. Lady Eileen is the daughter of an American and an English Earl. She has been run away to New York to visit her mother, who has made a second marriage with a playboy. She was followed in haste by her mother and earl and by young Capt. Darcy, to whom she was engaged and whom she has chucked without ceremony. She merely left Darcy a note saying she didn't wish to be engaged any more,
and considered the affair at an end.
All the time she loved him entirely,
and he did her, but he made the mistake of not saying anything about it and she wasn't the sort of a girl to stand for that.

She hasn't been in her mother's house twenty-four hours until she has wrecked the opportunity of the household to sell a play and get an engagement. She tries to patch the matter up by signing a contract to star in the piece herself for two years, the manager jumping at the chance to get her for the advertising she will bring. The late Earl buys her freedom for $25,000, and Capt. Darcy buys it again for $25,000, so the manager throws her overboard, Darcy marries her and every one is comfortable.

It doesn't sound much to tell, but it plays like a lyric. It is prettier than Henry Miller's "Rainbow" and Miss Cooper is as sweet as Ruth Chat-terton and a much better actress.

It is hard telling what she would do in an emotional part, but there is scant occasion for the emotional in this and she is a little thoroughbred in her delicious whims and fiery independence. She has good taste, fine enunciation and swiftness of motion. Her emphasis is always delicate yet pronounced. She has thorough understanding and makes Lady Eileen
a very real and lovely personality.

I think for the first time since I have been acquainted with his work, Forrest Stanley in Capt. Darcy has created a perfect character, and in this and in his other plays, he has traced of his own robust individualism is merged into that of the apparently stupid, yet exceedingly clever Englishman. He makes Darcy a man
of poise and delicate feeling in spite
of his marked English mannerisms.

Darcy's English manners are not affection, but form.

Walter Catlett as the theatrical manager is the spirit of comedy, and
Mr. McElmire is an entirely acceptable earl, with the possible exception
of the third act, where his abruptness
in one exit favors a little of the villain of the old school. James K. Ap-plebee is the playwright who has married the earl's wife after her divorce, and there is something beautifully appealing in his interpretation of the role. Applebee has a fineness which the parts given him do
not always allow him to express.

He brings to it a gentle dignity that amounts to strength. It is like an edge to steel.

Miss Grace Travers as the mother
shares honors with Miss Cooper. Her part is taken superbly. Indeed, she shows the finish and the feeling in this that she brought to the lead in
"The Governor's Lady." Donald
Bowles, Miss Winifred Bryson and Miss Beatrice Nichols have pleasing
bits acceptably done, and the stage
direction by Mr. Bowles reflects a high degree of artistry.

I understand the company had only one week of rehearsals. Under these circumstances the finish of the performance is remarkable. By the way,
it is the ideal road attraction.

THE YOUTH OF FRANCE.

The Members of the Younger Generation Take Themselves Seriously and are Becoming Clear Thinkers.

[Atlantic Monthly:] One finds in France a true jeunesse, a younger generation, into whose hands the future of the nation is given for conservation and use. In France, unlike our Anglo-Saxon youth, like woman and Saxondom, youth, like woman, is taken seriously; it is the thinking youth who measures for the nation the direction and force of the spiritual currents of the day, and stamp upon the age its characteristic impress. And the older generation, having played its role of youth, is not averse to devoting itself to discovering what the new jeunesse are thinking and dreaming. By means of enquetes, or a sort of social interrogation, the literary journals keep the public informed as to the intellectual tendencies of youth, even in these latter days of the feminine youth as well, and thus seek to make on every side youth articulate. The French education seems to set for its goal, above all things, the achievement of clarity of thought and expression. And the first result seems to be that in French youth introspection is robbed of the morbid terrors which so affright the Anglo-Saxon, destitute as he is of the faculty of expression and thus forced to watch his own thoughts. Because of our less-developed social sense, our introspections
are forcibly kept individual, while to
the Frenchman it is always not what I find in my soul, but what we find
in our soul that matters.

Immigrants in Canada.

[Indianapolis News:] Canada's sev-
tem of dumping immigrants into
large cities is opposed by John Keane of the Ottawa charities department. He insists that the government should put these immigrants on farm lands in Western Canada. He says that a large proportion of the newcomers are agriculturists and ill fitted
for city or industrial life.

HOPPER MAKES HIT IN "MIKADO."

IN SPEECH TALKS OF WEATHER AND GOSSIPS.

Remainder of the Company Pleases in Whimsical Characterizations and the Audience Kept the Actors Busy Until Midnight with Encores.
Yum-Yum the Sacharine Kid.

BY GRACE KINGSLEY.

De Wolf Hopper wasn't born. He was just made to order to play Ko-Ko, the Lord High Executioner, in
"The Mikado."

It was "The Mikado," with its catchy music, its whimsical satire and the unctuous Hopper humor, which opened the Gilbert & Sullivan opera season at the Majestic last night.

So long has Mr. Hopper been identified with the piece that "The Mikado" without him would be the German empire without the tobacco,
an oyster cocktail without the tobacco,
a patriotic musical comedy without George Cohan's name.

Of course he had to make a speech between curtains, and rambled along in that droll way of his, first about the nineteen different brands of weather the company had met (oh, yes, Hopper can even "put over" the weather in a speech!) and then, and then, in his own imitatively funny way, he gossiped about the characters in the opera.

"I'm awfully alone on this Japanese isle," he plaintively began confidentially. "All these people hate me,
the whole bunch. Yum-Yum, Pooh-Bah, Plah-Tush (how I loathe that name), Nanki-Poo, Katisha, I haven't a friend in the world. And you aren't the mean crowd? Say, that Pooh-Bah, he's smooth on the outside, but he's the original king of the velvet knock and mean! Why he'd steal a dead fly away from a blind spider!" And on and on, quite nonchalantly, until the house rocked with joy.

And of course the opera went as it always does, especially from the minute the stable Herbert Waterhouse re-gally sonorous voice, announced, "Oh, my protoplasmic ancestor!" through the amusing plot with the Mikado himself appearing with his "object
all sublime I shall achieve in time to make the punishment fit the crime,
the punishment fit the crime," to the final chorus, which, by the way, all the way through is some chorus.

Herbert Waterhouse is a great favorite here, and he has earned a lot of times, his voice carrying the heavy numbers with ease, and his acting and personality fitting the part to perfection.

The Yum-Yum of Gladys Caldwell was played in a touch-and-go will-the-way fashion that truly delightful. She's a rare and radiant sort of maiden is Gladys, who looks about 16 and is 18. Her voice is light but sweet, and in her numbers with Arthur Aldridge, as Nanki-Poo,
she was at her best.

Mr. Aldridge has a remarkable voice, that it has a baritone register, as well as the sweet high tenor notes. He played Nanki-Poo fascinatingly, yet excellently clever Englishman. He makes Darcy a man
of poise and delicate feeling in spite
of his marked English mannerisms.

Darcy's English manners are not affection, but form.

Walter Catlett as the theatrical
manager is the spirit of comedy, and
Mr. McElmire is an entirely accept-
able earl, with the possible exception
of the third act, where his abruptness
in one exit favors a little of the villain of the old school. James K. Ap-
plebee is the playwright who has
married the earl's wife after her divorce, and there is something beautifully appealing in his interpretation of the role. Applebee has a fine-
ness which the parts given him do
not always allow him to express.

He brings to it a gentle dignity that
amounts to strength. It is like an edge to steel.

Miss Grace Travers as the mother
shares honors with Miss Cooper. Her
part is taken superbly. Indeed, she
shows the finish and the feeling in
this that she brought to the lead in
"The Governor's Lady." Donald
Bowles, Miss Winifred Bryson and Miss Beatrice Nichols have pleasing
bits acceptably done, and the stage
direction by Mr. Bowles reflects a high degree of artistry.

I understand the company had only
one week of rehearsals. Under these circumstances the finish of the performance is remarkable. By the way,
it is the ideal road attraction.

that in French youth introspection is
robbed of the morbid terrors which so

oped social sense, our introspections
are forcibly kept individual, while to
the Frenchman it is always not what I find in my soul, but what we find
in our soul that matters.

Immigrants in Canada.

tem of dumping immigrants into
large cities is opposed by John
Keane of the Ottawa charities depart-

should put these immigrants on farm

that a large proportion of the newcomers are agriculturists and ill fitted
for city or industrial life.

UNIONITES LOSE

Jury Disagrees in Trial for Alleged Graft.

Northern Arizona Fair to be Held in October.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.)

FLAGSTAFF (Ariz.) Sept. 26.—The Sharp-Fellows Contracting Company of Los Angeles has been acquitted in the Superior Court of a charge that they were requiring employees to work more than eight hours a day on the construction of a new reservoir and pipe line from which is to be served the city of Flagstaff. The suit was brought by floating laborites, who claimed that the company was transgressing the State law which forbids more than eight hours' employment upon public works, it being alleged that the new reservoir should be considered a public work. At the trial it developed, however, that the work is being done by the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad Company as its own property and with its own funds, and that the only connection the town has with the enterprise is an agreement that after it is completed it may be turned over to the town for operation, with an option of purchase
at the end of twenty-five years.

CATTLEMEN vs. SHEEPMEN.
That all is not exactly serene between the cattlemen and sheepmen in Arizona is indicated by an advertisement in the Williams News, in which a reward of $25 is offered by a firm of sheep owners "for the arrest of the corrupter who 'jams' a lamb out of our band near Laco Juan road, and rode away with it on the saddle in
the velvet knock and mean! Why

CAN BANISH WRINKLES.

A Simple Preparation from Cereals Has Beautifying Quality and Makes the Skin Smooth.

[Woman's World:] There are two kinds of wrinkles, those which all skins will show as they are and become dry, and those called premature wrinkles, caused by suffering, either physical or mental. Many women whose skins seem unusually smooth and unwrinkled, almost babylike in their freshness, keep them so by bathing the face in some water in which some cereal has been steeped. The cereals seem to have unusually beautifying qualities, and some of you have already experienced the beneficial effects of the bran wash, both on the face and in the hair.

There is a very simple toilet wash,
with barley as a chief ingredient,
which has kept the skin of many women surprisingly youthful and un-wrinkled. It is made by dissolving three ounces of bran in a quart of water, then it is strained, and to the liquid twenty-five drops of tincture of benzoin is added. In connection with this a lily pomade or other skin food may be used effectively. After being thoroughly rubbed in, the barley wash is rinsed from the face with the usual
wash of pure soap and warm water.
The addition of a few drops of ben-zoin to the water in which the face is rinsed, night and morning, will keep the skin fresh and white, besides closing the distended pores.

Valuable Provinces.
[Philadelphia Record:] While
France seeks to regain possession of Alsace-Lorraine largely for sentimental reasons, it is worth noting that that district has a great commercial value also because of its deposits of iron ore. During 1913 over 21,000,000 metric tons of this ore were taken from forty-eight mines, and over 17,000 men found employment in this work. Doubtless the possession of these great deposits has been of great marked benefit to Germany in building up her iron and steel trade, and that she should revert to France that country would be a large gain in the same way. This is not, of course, the main reason why Germany and France battle so furiously for the possession of these provinces, but it is an incidental advantage which statesmen are not apt to overlook.

May Seguin, having left my bed and board, I will not be responsible for any debt contracted by her after September 26, 1914.
